Free-traders have persistently assailed the American tin plate industry; on the ground that the product was largely composed of "steers" plates instead of bright tin. As a matter of fact, the production of bright tin plates has increased from 6,138,739 pounds in the last quarter of 1893 to 18,687,920 pounds for the three months ending March 31st, 1893.

REPUBLICAN MONEY.

Chicago Inter-Ocean.—Many National banks have failed, but no man is at all uneasy who has a pocket-book full of bills issued by the broken banks. They are Red Seal bank notes, and are as good as gold at all times. There is no wisdom in National bank bills.

THE ONLY ROAD TO CONFIDENCE.
Bangor (Me.) Whig and Courier.—The business of the country to day is building barricades, seeking shelter in bomb-proof, and otherwise preparing for the greatest peril that has menaced it since Democracy thirty years ago sought to destroy the Government itself; and this time the same party led by the same spirit, has declared war against the prosperity unparalleled of the last century. That prosperity cannot be restored until the menace of the Democratic platform and policy is removed, and the only way in which Cleveland's Administration can "restore confidence" to the business of the country is by a public abandonment and repudiation of the pledge of his party to wage a war of extermination against the Protection of American industries.

MCKINLEY VS. CLEVELAND.
New York Press.—Some of our Free-traders contemporaneously established over the contumacious of McKinley. The Press will gladly define McKinley, and we hope that the definition will be accepted.

McKinley, as applied to the Tariff legislation formulated by William McKinley, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Fifty-third Congress, represents the most advance Tariff bill ever enacted by an American Congressman.

That act as it stands on the statute books to day represents the broadest statesmanship.

It extended the free list, reducing the average ad valorem rate on all imported merchandise to a little over 20 per cent. It gained the favor of the people the great boon of free sugar.

It gave the manufacturer free raw material wherever this could be done without destroying an American industry or impoverishing American labor.

It reduced duties wherever it was possible to do so without injury to American manufacturers.

It fearlessly increased duties wherever so doing was possible to establish on this side of the Atlantic an industry employing American labor and American capital.

It strengthened the Administration of the customs laws by substituting specific for ad valorem, thereby decreasing the number of free goods.

It adjusted rates of duties to the needs of business with the one patriotic aim of employing the largest amount of American capital or the greatest number of American artisans for the benefit of the home market.

That, in brief, is McKinleyism. What were the results?

No sooner was the law enacted than the current began to run in our direction—the direction of the United States. Mills, factories and workshops began to spring up all over the country. Many large industries moved their entire plants to this country. The manufacture of tin plate, of tin cans, of tin cans, of paint, of glass, of lace, of plush and a hundred other commodities were established. Wages stiffened. Additional hands were employed. New factories were built. The country was prosperous. The working classes were employed. To say that McKinleyism increased the cost of anything cannot for an instant be sustained, for even such a rabid Free-trade organ as The New York Evening Post admits that never in the history of the country has the American workman been able to purchase so much for a given sum of money as during this period.

Had McKinley been allowed to stand the present record would have continued. The present record and industrial rule would have been averted.

In place of McKinleyism with its prosperity, its high wages and abundant work, the Nation is now threatened with the blight of Clevelandism. The very heart's core of the country—its industries—are to be destroyed. The wages of labor, as Free-trade organ coldly announce, must be reduced. They are too high, they proclaim, if the passage of these Free-trade laws means ruin, why ruin it must be. Clevelandism means broken financial institutions, shrinkage of values, reduced wages and men without out employment, ruined manufacturers and laborers.

It won't take long if matters continue as they are just now, for the wage earners of the United States to obtain a very clear and very emphatic definition of the difference between McKinleyism and Clevelandism.

THE NEXT HOUSE.

A Caucus to Select Employees Will Likely be Held Saturday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—No call has yet been issued for a democratic caucus this week, but it is almost certain that the meeting will be held next Saturday night.

Representative Robertson, of Louisiana, who is one of the senators for the caucus, telephoned to Mr. Holman for permission to make a necessary call, but has not received a reply.

In view of the important matters that will come up in congress as soon as the session is fairly started and the fact that Mr. Crisp has given the speakership to the organization, the debate is attracting but little general interest. The candidates for the position of sergeant-at-arms are Judge Yoder, who held the position in the last congress, and Samuel E. Johnson, a Washington correspondent, and Representative Snow, of Illinois. Yoder and Johnson are from Ohio, and the present contest will be merely one of personal popularity.

Mr. Turner will unquestionably receive the support of the New York delegation, but his position is not a safe one, as he is not a member of the delegation, while Mr. Smith, of Texas, who is backed by the entire delegation from his state, will draw his support largely from the southern members. A call will be made that the position should be given to the south, and if this is allowed it will greatly improve Mr. Smith's chances.

The other candidates are Mr. Hurt, of Mississippi, and ex-member of the house, and Mr. McMath, who has been in the example of the house for the last forty years. Mr. Kerr, of Pennsylvania, will be re-elected clerk of the house without opposition.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

It Will Not Be Sent to Congress Until Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—It is expected that a special cabinet meeting will be held on Monday, when the message will be read, and that it will be sent to congress on Tuesday. This arrangement, it is, subject to change, and depends, also, upon the time when both the senate and the house are organized and are ready to receive official communication from the president. The communication may be delayed until Wednesday.

It is evident from the talk with the southern members who are coming in that the people in that section are more concerned in preserving bimetallism than they are in maintaining the present ratio between gold and silver. It is also evident that it is quite evident that there is a determination among the southern members not to permit the demonetization of silver for the reason that they believe that both silver and gold are not in the best state of currency, but that they appear to have very little interest in silver in the mine owner's point of view, and they have, as a rule, no objection to a considerable increase in the ratio upon which free coinage of silver, on the theory that it will give more value to the dollar, will be willing that the silver dollar should be placed on a parity with gold by increasing the amount of silver in the coin.

MINISTER BLOUNT.

Will Leave Hawaii Wednesday, Waiting for Arrival of Adm. of a Successor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 2.—Authentic advice received here state that Minister Blount has determined to turn over matters in Hawaii, as far as the United States' interests are concerned, to Commodore Skerrett, of the Boston, and San Francisco, and State, August 5, without waiting for the appointment of his successor.

Mr. Blount may be expected to arrive at San Francisco about August 12. Meanwhile, his report, which has been made by the San Francisco Committee, will have been presented, and by the time the special commissioner and minister arrives in the east the president and Secretary Gresham will have had full opportunity to carefully consider its contents. It is said his report is very voluminous, but makes no recommendations.

Considered a "Wild Horse."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—A Acting Mint Director Preston characterizes as a "wild horse" the proposition of State Attorney-General Engle, of Colorado, to establish a state bullion depository, and to coin a gold dollar to be used for bullion. The scheme is not violative of any United States statute, it is said, but it is regarded at the treasury, at the best, as a temporary makeshift and impractical.

Motives to Silver Sellers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Secretary Carlisle Tuesday sent the following letter to the acting director of the mint: "You will be interested to know that a sum from and after this date delivered on sale to the government must be completed within five days from the date of acceptance."

Settling It in Secret.

London, Aug. 2.—A dispatch to the Times from Bangkok says that the negotiations have assumed a secret character, and that nothing can be done by the public, no divergent action is taken by the French fleet. It is expected that the details will soon be amicably settled.

Getting It to Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Secretary Gresham and Postmaster General Hissell returned from Oler Summit, Pa., Monday afternoon and were at their desks Tuesday morning. Secretary Gresham will return Friday and all the members of the cabinet will then be in the city again.
